We need up to 4 persons to help with pruning starting immediately. A couple of these could turn in to full seasonal employment thru fall.

We are also in search of a permanent production manager. This position would entail all production related responsibilities including harvest and be responsible for all irrigation and watering needs of our various fruits. We are in the beginning stages of a trellised apple project. This position would be a permanent salaried opportunity for the right individual.

We will need field laborers around the 1st of April (or earlier if it stays warm). These workers will be planting and harvesting vegetables and flowers. Work includes greenhouse production and outdoor production. Must be able to lift at least 50 pounds. People who would like to have summer positions are required to work April and May. Those working during April and May have first dibs on summer employment.

We are also looking for people interested in working with customers in our market and greenhouses. These workers are responsible for the retail market and retail greenhouse space. We're looking for people who know plants and their care, and are creative in retail displays. We are working in a barn and outside, so daily cleaning is also a part of this job.

We usually have a variety of full time, part time employees at the farm. We've also been fortunate to have two volunteers in the last few years to help with CSA operations and transplanting. Both of these people have moved from the area, so we're possibly open to filling their spots on the team.

Full-time year round

40hr/wk with overtime during peak times (planting, harvest, etc.)

$14-18/hr depending on experience

We're looking for someone who can grow with our orchard and act as my right hand. Lots of hands on labor planting, pruning, thinning, harvesting, & spraying fruit trees. Some fruit delivery and may sell at farmer markets.

We believe in education. The employee will attend educational conferences each winter.

Mechanical skills and experience with farm equipment are a plus.

The intangibles are a must (show up, take pride in work, willing to work hard, follow direction, give feedback). We can teach the rest.
